Do you know someone who makes a difference in your community?

If you do, then nominate them for the prestigious Jefferson Award by visiting www.nj.com/jeffersonawards

Jefferson Awards honor ordinary people who, through public service, do extraordinary things for other people, their community, their nation, or the environment.

Paul McGill, the COO of the Shannon Daley Memorial Fund, is the most honest, principled, and selfless person anyone could ever meet. Paul devotes significant portions of his personal time to ensure the continued success of The Shannon Daley Memorial Fund. This tax exempt organization's mission is to assist seriously ill children and their families in financial need. To date, the charity has distributed over a half million dollars to twenty families with children who continue "the fight of their lives." Paul's responsibilities include tracking all donations, preparing the ad journals, and most importantly, fundraising! In addition, Paul screens all potential charity recipient candidates. Paul personally stays in contact with all recipient families past and present. He does this because he deeply cares about the families we assist. Paul clearly devotes more of his personal time and energy to our Charity than anyone else. He is truly both the "heart and soul" of the Shannon Daley Memorial Fund.
